Seminar Report:

Date; 06/06/2022

The department of Economics Kamarbandha College, Golaghat conducted a seminar on "Poverty and Rural Development in India with special reference to NER" at college premises on 6th of June, 2022. The seminar was convened by Jadumoni Borkakoty, HoD of the department. The inaugural speech was given by Debajyoti Goswami, the faculty member of the department. The convenor delivered the key note on the seminar. In his speech he analyzed the various issues of rural poverty regarding causes and extent of rural poverty, as well as the government initiatives for removal of such poverty. The general deficiency of basic facilities such as roads, communication, electricity, health, sanitation and drinking water in rural areas is said to have contributed to low productivity and unemployment. It has a general depressing effect on over quality of life in rural areas. Total — students of the department actively participated in the seminar. After the presentation is over valedictory session was held and certificates were distributed among the participants by the chairperson. The seminar ended with the vote of thanks given by Nabajyoti Mahanta.

Date: 15/09/2019

The department of Economics Kamarbandha College, Golaghat conducted a seminar on "GST and Its Impact on Indian Economy" at the digital classroom of the college on 15th September, 2019. The inaugural session was presided over by Mrs. Reena Chetia Gogoi, HoD, department of economics. She delivered the key note on the topic of the seminar. In her speech she analyzed the various issues of GST and its impacts on Indian economy. She very elaborately discussed all the possible positive and negative impacts on the economy basically, in the rural areas. The Government although argued in favour of GST but it will definitely hamper the rural people because, most of the people live in the rural areas and their economic condition is not very good. Another faculty member Jadumoni Borkakoty also delivered his speech on this critical issue covering almost all the things. A good number of students participated in the seminar but only a few of them presented paper on the topic. They were given certificate at the valedictory session by the HoD. The seminar ended with the vote of thanks given by Debajyoti Goswami, convenor of the seminar.

The Report on Socio- Economic Survey

Date: 30/09/2019

A Socio- Economic survey was organized by the department of Economics, Kamarbandha College, Golaghat. A group of 20 students visited our adopted village namely Namchania Village nearby the college. The four faculty members were also accompanied them for their proper guidance. During the survey various issues related to the occupation, household types, medical facility, education, drinking water, sanitation system, usage of toilets, financial perspectives, composition of families, were reported by the surveyors. It was a great experience for them. Their main motto of the survey was to know the living condition and socio- economic status of the villagers.

In this process all the students were divided into four groups. They had a well prepared questionnaire which reflects the socio & economic condition of the villagers. Then the students visited the households separately in groups and collected information from them as per the questionnaire. It can be aptly summarized that the villagers have grievances regarding the basic amenities whereas they are overall satisfied with their simple life style. The survey was completed that day with full satisfaction by the students.
